OUR GOLF FACILITIES

Designed by Pete Dye to challenge players at any level, The Country Club of Colorado features an immaculately groomed 18-hole championship course. The course was Dye's first design west of the Mississippi and his first venture into Colorado. Lush, tour-quality greens and broad fairways are set alongside our 35-acre lake, with a rugged mountain ridgeline backdrop framed against the bright blue southern Colorado sky.

THE COURSE This championship course is rated 72.6, measuring 6,970 yards. Water comes into play on five of the back nine holes and there are over 50 well-positioned bunkers throughout the course. Many players say that the back nine offers two of the best finishing holes of golf in Colorado!

LESSONS Our staff of PGA professionals offer individual and group lessons, computer swing analysis, improvement clinics and a variety of tournaments for all ages and handicaps throughout the year. Whether you are interested in game improvement or participation in the many club-sponsored events, there is a program just for you!

JUNIOR GOLF The Junior Golf Program is dedicated to helping juniors develop a lifelong enthusiasm, respect and love for the game of golf. Our program is committed to providing expert instruction, a safe environment and supervised use of the practice range and golf course. Our goal is to provide an arena where sportsmanship, fun and education allow a junior's skills and understanding of the game to grow.

HISTORY OF THE CLUB

In 1967, Charles Gates purchased 3,000 acres of land in southwest Colorado Springs that was known as Cheyenne Mountain Ranch. His vision included a community of individual home sites, shopping centers, restaurants, hotels and areas for recreation. The Country Club of Colorado was the focal point of that vision and in 1971, Gates Land Company selected Pete Dye as the architect to design and build our golf course.

The Club opened nine holes in the fall of 1973 and from the beginning, the community and the Club were a success. The golf course was built around a spring fed lake known as Curr Reservoir. In addition to a championship golf course, the Club's recreation programs offered tennis, exercise and fitness programs, water sports on the lake and a multitude of social and family events throughout the year on it's own private beach. The Clubhouse includes The Pineview Grille, Family Dining Room, Lakeview Banquet Room and Terrace, Game Room, Golf Shop and the newly renovated Golf Locker Rooms.

Charles was trustee emeritus of the Gates Family Foundation, a large, Colorado charitable organization that has distributed over $147 million in grants over its 60-year history. He also sat on the boards of many other organizations, including the Denver Museum of Nature & Science, home to the Gates Planetarium. He attended Graland Country Day School, class of 1934, and endowed the school to create the Gates Invention and Innovation Competition.
