The Club opens 18 holes of golf around a spring-fed lake, known as Curr Reservoir.

2015

The Club adds a 9,000 sq. ft. state-of-the-art fitness center facility and Alluvia Spa and Wellness Retreat.

Wyndham Hotels & Resorts, under the upscale brand Dolce Hotels & Resorts, takes over management of both the Club and Resort, investing $60 million into renovation.

2018

Renovation concludes on the original dining outlet Pineview Grille with a rebranded look and name: Gates Grille, to honor the vision of Charles Gates.

1967

Charles Gates purchases 3,000 acres of land known as the Cheyenne Mountain Ranch. His vision includes a community of homes, shopping centers, restaurants, hotels, and areas for recreation.

1985

Cheyenne Mountain Inn (now Resort) is built uphill from the Club as a signature destination and conference center.

2013

$4 million is poured into renovation of the golf course to include a new irrigation system & pump house, 11 new tees, 900,000 sq. ft. of sod, and 115 new trees.

2019
