SILVERADO'S CABERNET SEASON GOLF SPECIALS: STAY AND PLAY FREE
Women's Golf Getaway Combines Golf and Wine

Napa, Calif. (December XX, 2014) – The “Cabernet Season,” from December to April, is one of the Napa Valley’s best-kept secrets. Moderate temperatures mean the Valley is less crowded, and paint the vineyards and hillsides a lush shade of green. The result is a unique opportunity to experience the Napa as few do, at its most vibrant and free of crowds.

To help make the most of this Cabernet Season, Silverado Resort and Spa, whose iconic North Course serves as the venue for the PGA Tour's Frys.com open, is offering golfers two ways to save:

STAY AND PLAY FREE

As straightforward as it sounds: stay the night at Silverado and the golf is free. For each night’s stay, guests can play 18 holes on either the North or South course, including unlimited use of the practice facility, range balls and club storage facilities. The deal is good for one round/room, and valid through April 30, 2015.

LADIES FAIRWAYS & CHARDONNAY GOLF SCHOOL

Combining the best of Silverado, the new Ladies Fairways and Chardonnay Golf School offers the chance to experience Napa the way only Silverado Guests can. The golf school splits nine hours of instruction from LPGA golf pros over the course of three days, allowing guests plenty of time to relax and enjoy Napa. Also included, a 50-minute spa treatment, breakfasts, lunches and wine tastings round out a perfect weekend. Availability is limited to 15 participants on the weekends of March 20-22, April 17-19 and April 24-26.

“The Ladies Fairways & Chardonnay Golf School is taught by women, for women,” says Tara Lipanovich, LPGA pro and head of Silverado’s women’s golf instruction. “It’s a relaxed environment and while instruction is certainly a component of the experience, it’s really all about enjoying what makes Napa such a special place, and a great setting for a girls getaway.”
