

Monday, September 2, 2019

RE: Hurricane Dorian

We are truly grateful for the unwavering efforts of the hardworking Comfort Suites Paradise Island family in preparation for Hurricane Dorian and their efforts during this time. We are grateful that the storm did not impact Comfort Suites Paradise Island and Nassau in general, which is the homestead for our valued team members. We can report that all of our guests are safe and that CSPI sustained no damages and have returned to normal hotel operational mode.

Our thoughts and prayers are with our neighboring northern islands, The Abacos and Grand Bahama, both of whom are currently experiencing the wrath of Hurricane Dorian; and all those in the future path of the storm.

Sincerely,

Jermaine C. Wright
General Manager

Airport Update:

The Nassau Airport Development Company Ltd. wishes to advise the public that the Lynden Pindling International Airport (LPIA) is open for operations today Monday, September 2, 2019 although airline schedules may vary.

The traveling public is asked to contact their respective airlines for flight updates. A listing of all airlines and their contacts can be found on LPIA's website at <http://nassaulpia.com/flight-info/airlines-serving-lpia/>