FEATURED CHEF:
ANDREW FOSKEY

CHEF DE CUISINE, OLIVELLA

A native of Cincinnati, Ohio, Andrew Foskey found his calling to cuisine when he was in grade school, fascinated by the different techniques utilized by chefs on the Discovery Channel program, "Great Chefs of the World." His interest continued to grow while he worked for his uncle's catering company as a teenager, learning the ins and outs of the culinary world, solidifying his belief that cooking was truly his passion in life. This revelation led him to pursue a degree in Culinary Arts from Johnson & Wales University in Charlotte, North Carolina.

Following graduation, Chef Foskey remained in Charlotte, developing his skills with some of the city's most renowned chefs including Jon Fortes, Tommy Dyrness, and Sam Diminic of the Harper's Restaurant Group. The next five years presented Andrew with many versatile opportunities to serve as Sous Chef and Executive Sous Chef at Hilton Hotels, premier catering companies, and luxury private country clubs in order to expand his knowledge within all aspects of the industry.

Chef Foskey joined the Inn's culinary team in 2015 as Sous Chef and quickly became an indispensable asset to the resort, bringing his exquisite palate and creativity to everything he touched. In November 2018, he was named Chef de Cuisine of Olivella, a role in which he continues to delight guests with his refined, contemporary cuisine that highlights the area's incredible, local bounty.

FEATURED CHEF: ANDRIA STRAND

CHEF DE CUISINE, THE FARMHOUSE

A California native, Chef Andi Strand developed a love for food and a passion for cooking at a young age. Inspired by her grandmother and parents, Chef Andi learned the joy of cooking as they created eclectic meals for their family that not only tasted delicious but took them on a culinary journey. By the time she was 12 years old, Chef Andi was writing her own cookbooks and pushing the boundaries of her own culinary skills.

“From my Mexican grandmother to my Swedish great grandmother, food was always at the center of our world.”

Although she attended culinary school at the age of 24, Chef Andi’s professional career as a chef began in 2015 after she spent 26 years as a medical photographer.

In 2016, Chef Andi became the Chef de partie at Four Seasons Westlake Village where she ran the world-renowned California Health and Longevity Institute’s Wellness Kitchen. While there, she helped to create culinary retreats that were highlighted in many magazines, including Simply Gluten and 805 Living. From there, Chef Andi joined the team at the Moorpark Country Club as the Executive Chef and in 2019 became the Executive Chef at Cottage Hospital in Santa Barbara, CA.

In 2021, she joined Ojai Valley Inn as The Farmhouse Chef where she leads hands-on classes such as The Fresh Pasta Making, Garden to Table and Taco Fiesta. She shared, “Getting to see the expression on guests’ faces when they succeed—and being able to share my love of cooking with an audience—is my favorite thing about overseeing culinary events at The Farmhouse.”
