Celebrate San Francisco's vibrant artistic communities, including those in the Tenderloin and Union Square, at a special pop-up event held by SF Etsy and The Marker Hotel on Thursday, May 2, from 5 to 8 pm, coinciding with the popular First Thursday Art Walk that occurs monthly in the Lower Polk and Tenderloin neighborhoods.

Enjoy complimentary admission as well as wine and snacks from the hotel's noted Tratto restaurant while exploring a range of the area's artists, jewelry makers, cosmetic lines, knitwear and more.

The SF Etsy Pop-up market will take place in The Marker's stunning Beaux Arts-style lobby area, where visitors can mingle with the artists. The shopping area will feature several local sellers for guests and visitors to purchase beautiful handcrafted and designed goods.

Grab your ticket for a mini makeover with local make up stylist Christina Choi – limited tickets available (Sold Out).
