

What	The Spectator Hotel is Charleston’s high-design, distinct boutique hotel for the well-heeled traveler. Located in the city’s charming Historic District, the luxury property features 41 bright, residential-style rooms exuding glamour and comfort through vibrant, modern design. The inspiration for The Spectator has multiple ties to Charleston’s rich history. The Spectator represents an elegance that was also found in the bustling French Quarter and Market Street districts where the hotel is located, making it a fitting name for one of the Holy City’s premier hotels – a place to see and be seen. Recently named the No. 1 Hotel in Charleston, the No. 2 City Hotel in the Continental U.S., and the #61 Hotel in the World in the Travel + Leisure World’s Best Awards, The Spectator is designed with an Art Deco meets Southern Charm influence, inspired by the spirit of the Roaring Twenties. The Spectator enchants guests from the moment they enter, marrying elite luxury with ultimate comfort provided by meticulously curated service and amenities. At the only hotel in Charleston with personal butler service, the hotel butlers can coordinate anything from developing itineraries and packing services to drawing candlelit rose petal baths and making late night food deliveries, making guests look and feel their best. Additional complimentary amenities include artisanal in-room breakfast, specialty welcome cocktails, and The Bar, The Spectator’s renowned 1920’s themed cocktail lounge serving seasonal hand-crafted specialty cocktails using local ingredients and flavors of the south.
